

Time Transitions

The sentences in the body of a paragraph should be organized in a logical order. One way to do this is by using transition words, such as the ones listed below.

First	Now	At the beginning of
Thereafter	By the time	Then
Soon	In the middle of	Presently
At the same time	In the meantime	Next
At the end of	After a short time	At that instant
Meanwhile	At last	Later
Soon thereafter	Immediately	During
After	Afterward	First
Yesterday	The first	Second
Before noon	Today	A more recent
Third	In the afternoon	Tomorrow
The most recent	Finally	In the evening
In the morning	In a few years	In the past
The next day	This year	In the future
