- Get ready B.H.S. because the English Department, The National English Honor Society, and The Writer's Club are pulling out all of the stops as we gear up for Poem in Your Pocket Day! Did you know? On Thursday, May 25th, if you are stopped in the hallway by a teacher and can produce an actual poem from your very own pocket- you will earn a raffle ticket for an awesome grand prize basket! So, get your poems ready, my friends, or- hint, hint, take one from the free poetry folders, which have been placed strategically by Mrs. Biener throughout the building for your reading pleasure! The library will be celebrating a different poetry activity all of this week so be sure to visit today, where you can play the Poet's Scavenger Hunt to earn extra raffle tickets! F.Y.I. - the questionnaire form is now closed as we have a full roster of presenters. Thanks to everyone that responded, we're looking forward to your presentations!
- We have the perfect way to kick off your memorial day weekend plans! The French National Honor Society Student teacher Talent Show will kick off your weekend festivities Thursday May 25 at 7 PM in Rowe Hall. Our proceeds are going to the Be Like Brit Foundation. If you don't know who they are, ask Mrs Anderson! Rumor has it representatives from the organization will be in the audience cheering us on! Mr Marange is getting the band back together! The seniors are ready to lip sync their way to their second consecutive victory in the EPIC LIP SYNC battle to end all battles! This will not disappoint! Please consider attending! Tickets are $10 and can be purchased at the door! Hope to see you there!
