- Morning Announcement- For College & Career Week today we are “Looking to The Future” and dressing in our college gear! I’m sure Mr. Bookhart is here today repping his Clemson Tigers! As Patriots preparing for our futures, we work hard and are OPTIMISTIC.
- College & Career Week Fun Fact: Today’s College & Career Week Fun Fact: Have you ever asked yourself what if a 4 year university is not for me? If you want to advance your skills and education but are unsure if a traditional four-year college is for you, you may want to consider a trade or vocational school. Attending a vocational school can be an excellent option for those who want to get the necessary training to secure a good job quickly. After completing a trade school program, you can get a job directly related to the field you studied in your vocational school program. For example, once you complete a dental hygienist program, you can get a job as a dental hygienist. If you complete a program in aircraft mechanics, you can get a position as an aircraft mechanic. Again, these schools are designed to prepare you for a job in a specific field. Tomorrow we will “Dress for the Job You Want, Not the Job You Have” Make sure to show your career spirit by dressing in clothes for your future career."
