course texts

Most instruction for reading units will come from novels.

There may be times throughout the year where your student may be responsible for obtaining a novel by a given date. One way we try to get the right book into your student's hands is to grant him/her access to books they enjoy. I am sensitive to having appropriate reading material in my students' hands. That said, what is considered "appropriate" may vary from one parent to another. I ask you to remain aware throughout the year to the books your student has chosen to read and assist in gauging appropriateness. Rest assured the books are read on a voluntary basis only (with the exception of the class novel, The Outsiders by S.E. Hinton).
