Benefits of Classroom Instruction . . .

- Classroom instruction allows for dynamic discussions providing new and experienced coaches valuable professional development opportunities covering industry standards, current trends and best practices in coaching.
- Classroom instruction allows the coaching principles instructor to implement a blended curriculum. Classroom instruction provides the flexibility of customizing the CIF coaching coaches class to fit local districts while adhering to state standards.
- Classroom instruction provides future mentoring opportunities through valuable networking. Guest speakers will also stimulate the learning environment and create a direct connection between strong coaching principles and successful coaches.
- Coaches Training is mandatory for all middle school and high school coaches. Coaches must complete the course to coach the following season.
