

The Earlier We Start, The Farther They'll Go

Because all babies are different, they rarely do the same thing at the same age. As a result, it's not unusual for families to have questions or concerns about their child's development. You may wonder:

Why isn't my baby talking?

Why isn't my baby crawling?

Why is my toddler throwing a tantrum?

Why doesn't my child respond to me?

If you have concerns about your child's development, call the CITI Kids Program at (559) 327-8450

If you have concerns about delays in your child's development, start here:

1. Call Central Valley Regional Center at (559) 276-4300, for an assessment of your child's developmental needs. Families can refer their own child. You do not need a doctor's referral.
2. After qualification, you may request the CITI Kids Program from your Regional Center Worker.
3. A teacher from CITI Kids will contact you to set up the first home visit to discuss your child's needs, goals and what kind of program will best suit your family.
4. You may request support and information from the Family Resource Center, which is part of the CITI Kids Program.

Our mission:

We strive to create a family focused, community connected, individually designed educational experience for infants and toddlers to help nurture and enhance development.

Home: Our program focuses on providing teachable moments in everyday activities and in a variety of settings, especially in the home.

Community: The CITI Kids Program provides educational experiences in our community where children can both have fun and be better prepared for future community interaction. Some of our field trips include fire station visits, library story time, parks and more.

CITI Kids Intervention Team Includes:

- Credentialed Early Childhood Developmental Specialist
- School Psychologist
- Credentialed School Nurse
- Language – Speech Pathologist
- Vision Specialist
- Deaf & Hard-of-Hearing Specialist
- Occupational Therapy Consultation
- Physical Therapy Consultation
- Family Liaison

This dedicated team will partner with you to create a quality developmental program, customized to your child’s individual needs at home, at school and in the community.
