Clovis Unified Governing Board names newest school opening for grades 7-8 in Fall 2025 after late Clovis Unified graduate turned U.S. Ambassador!

For the story, see Page 3.

Citizens group proposes facility bond for November ballot

Following six months of meetings and research, a group of volunteer community members have recommended to the Clovis Unified Governing Board that they ask voters to consider approval of a $400 million facility bond on the November ballot. Members of the Citizens Committee to Study Capital Facility Needs made the recommendation in a June 12 report to the district's Governing Board emphasizing that such a ballot measure would not increase the existing tax rate while providing critical resources to take care of the community's schools.

Citizen Committee Chair Todd Cook delivered the report about the work of the 40-member group in developing the recommendation. They studied financial reports, current schools' maintenance and upgrade needs, enrollment projections and planned housing developments that impact future school needs, community survey results and project priority lists. The citizens group voted unanimously in determining a bond would be necessary to keep schools in good repair and up-to-date, and to keep pace with growth. While the committee's research found overall facility needs that total approximately $550 million, the group prioritized projects in determining ways to bring the number down so that their recommendation would make no changes to the existing tax rate. For example, fully funding safety and technology upgrades stayed on the list, but athletic upgrades were removed and some modernization projects were also delayed. "Our recommendation would allow all of us to continue to benefit from high quality facilities and avoid overcrowding our schools, just by continuing to pay the same tax rate we have for the past 12 years," said Cook to the board. "Members of the committee thought that was a good reason for making this recommendation." For the past 12 years, the annual tax rate paid toward Clovis Unified facility bonds has been $155 per $100,000 of assessed home value. Before 2012, the rate was actually higher. The current tax rate is lower than that paid by homeowners in Fresno, Sanger or Central Unified. The Governing Board will consider taking action on the recommendation at its July 17 meeting.

WELCOME TO THE FAMILY

Coming Fall of 2025 — Sanchez Intermediate School

One of Clovis Unified School District's newest schools will bear the name Phillip V. Sanchez Intermediate in honor of a Clovis Unified graduate, Governing Board trustee and widely successful Hispanic American who was a U.S. Ambassador, among other things.

In May, the CUSD Governing Board announced the name honoring Sanchez, who died at the age of 88 in 2017. This followed months of community input and suggestions regarding what will be the district's sixth intermediate school and part of the upcoming Terry P. Bradley Educational Center at the Highland Avenue and Clinton alignment. Also at the Bradley Center will be Clovis South High School.

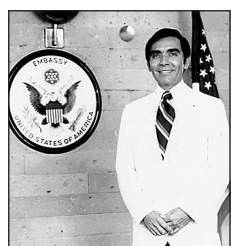

Sanchez grew up in the Pinedale neighborhood of Fresno, attending Pinedale Elementary and Clovis High School where he was voted "Most Likely to Succeed" by his classmates. He lived up to that title, going on to launch a successful life of public service in which he became the first Hispanic American to serve on a U.S. Presidential Cabinet and was later appointed by President Nixon as the U.S. Ambassador to Honduras (1973-75) and then by President Ford to the position of U.S. Ambassador to Colombia (1975-77).

Ambassador Sanchez was also committed to education as a path to success. He served as a trustee of the Clovis Unified School District Governing Board and on the boards of the California State Community Colleges, National Hispanic University, University of Bridgeport and University of the Americas Foundation, a non-profit corporation that provides college scholarships to orphans in Mexico.

He was active in the Pinedale community, supporting student activities and events at the elementary school.

Sanchez Intermediate will open in August 2025.

CUSD summer hours

Clovis Unified School District's office at 1450 Herndon Ave., Clovis, will be on a summer schedule through Aug. 1, with business hours 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

The district campus will be closed in observance of holidays on June 19 (Juneteenth) and July 4 (Independence Day). Regular business hours will resume Aug. 5.

Summer public swim

Clovis West High will be the designated site this summer to provide public swim time. The pool will be open from noon to 2 p.m. Wednesdays through July 24. There is a fee of $4 for adults and $2 for children ages 12 and younger. Children must be 13 years old to use the pool without an attending adult (18 or older).

Construction zones

With students out for the summer, deferred maintenance will be taking place at several Clovis Unified schools in the next weeks. Projects vary at sites depending upon priority needs and may include painting, paving, roofing, parking lot sealing and striping, replacing play courts and repairing bleachers. Schools affected are Alta Sierra Intermediate, Bud Rank Elementary, Clark Intermediate, Clovis East High, Clovis West High, Cole Elementary, Fancher Creek, Kastner Intermediate, Liberty Elementary, Maple Creek Elementary, Nelson Elementary and Sierra Vista Elementary.

Ongoing work will also continue this summer with modernization at the Mercedes Edwards Theatre on the Clark Intermediate campus, and new construction of Satoshi Hirayama Elementary (Fowler/McKinley avenues), Terry P. Bradley Educational Center, home of Clovis South High and Phillip V. Sanchez Intermediate (Highland/Clinton avenues), Clovis Online School (Herndon/Fowler avenues), and CUSD Special Education Services (Herndon/Fowler avenues).

Key dates for new school year!

Clovis Unified's 2024-25 Student Calendar is available online and indicates holidays, grading periods and end of quarters/semesters for the upcoming school year.

Here are a few key dates to note: Aug. 19, First Day of School; Nov. 25 to 29, Thanksgiving Holiday; Dec. 23 to Jan. 6, Winter Break; April 14 to 21, Spring Break; June 6, Last Day of School.

For the complete calendar, see cusd.com/calendars.aspx.

Meet the Longhorns!

Clovis South High and Phillip V. Sanchez Intermediate will be home to the Longhorns and have school colors of navy, burnt orange, gray and white. In May, the Governing Board approved the mascot and colors for the Terry P. Bradley Educational Center, or TBEC, that houses both schools.

Clovis South Area Superintendent Stephanie Hanks, Ed.D., and TBEC Principal Sonia Torossian, Ed.D., gathered input from students, staff and families to help with the selection. They found that the community wanted the mascot to give a nod to the area's history of agriculture, farming and rodeo; to be something that would look and sound fierce; to be unique from other district mascots; and to be something that lent itself to fun chants and spirit wear.

"We are excited to build this Longhorn legacy brand, Longhorn leaders and lifelong Longhorn loyal fans," Hanks said.

Mascot artwork and exact color tones are already under development.

Who is the Thundering Herd?

Clovis Unified is organized by school areas, with each area including a high school and the intermediate and elementary schools that feed into it. Updates to attendance boundaries were made earlier this year in order to create the new Clovis South Area. Future Longhorns will be students coming from Boris, Fancher Creek, Hirayama, Temperance-Kutner and Young elementary schools.

Win at 'Magical Kitchen'

A Clovis Unified CTE Culinary Arts team competed in a "Cook Around the World" competition at Disney World and earned two third place awards out of 100 teams. The team included Kylee Turner, Eavan Gallaway, Justin Ashton, Kameron Myers and Jett Leonard from Buchanan High; Lilly Adams from Clovis East High; Kayla Nicholas from Clovis West High; and Abdulai Hamed from Clovis North High.

In the competition, teams were randomly assigned a continent and had to prepare an appetizer and entrée in 90 minutes, making sure to use three mandatory ingredients in their dishes. The Clovis Unified team's winning creations were Vegetable Onigiri Appetizers and Mongolian Beef.

Chargers at Guard

Second graders from Boris Elementary got a behind-the-scenes tour of the 144th Fighter Wing at Fresno's Air National Guard, and they had many questions about the F-15 fighter jets that fly over their school weekly during flight trainings. Students also learned about a robot that can remove bombs in the Explosives Department, toured the fire department on-base, and then got to watch two F-15s taking off.

Great gamers

Three eSports teams from Clovis Unified high schools qualified to compete in the CIF eSports Initiative state playoffs. Congratulations to Clovis High's "A Team," Clovis West High's "Gold" and Clovis North High's "Broncos SSBU Black" varsity teams playing "Super Smash Brothers Ultimate" during the CIF eSports regional season.

Gettysburg spreads kindness to Ethiopia

Five people in Ethiopia will receive needed surgeries thanks to a Gettysburg Elementary class that turned their social studies lessons into a real-life fundraiser to help those in need.

Throughout the school year, David Mattox's fifth/sixth-grade class explored global income inequality and ways they could help others around the world. In one lesson, Gettysburg students heard from a medical professional who lived and worked in a hospital in Ethiopia and learned about patients who needed affordable medical care. Upon hearing that $400 could cover the medical expenses for a surgery, the class decided to start fundraising.

Students made a variety of crafts – like bracelets, origami art and stress balls – and also received a donation of oranges from a local citrus company that they sold during Gettysburg's Open House and Grandparent's Breakfast events.

The efforts raised more than $2,000, enough to cover five surgeries!

icultural Fashion Show. Kids from kindergarten to sixth grade wore clothing from countries including Portugal, China, Japan, Sweden, India, Nigeria, Korea and Ireland. "The students loved the opportunity to learn about and see up close the traditional clothing," said first and second-grade teacher Lauri Vaughn.

CHS construction wins

A CTE construction team from Clovis High walked away with the top prize in the Design Build Competition hosted by Fresno County Superintendent of Schools and Central California Builders Exchange. The challenge connected students with industry professionals and tasked them with designing and building a small structure to specified criteria. The Cougars' team, under the guidance of Tony Guzman from Core Contracting, was scored based on factors such as safety, construction, building inspections, curb appeal and a marketability interview.

CN international scientists

Two Clovis North High students both placed in the International Science and Engineering Fair recently in a competition that had more than 1,700 students from 67 different countries.

Pauline Estrada won first place in the Plant Sciences with her "Expedited Detection of Superweeds (Herbicide-Resistant Weeds) Utilizing Full-Spectrum Imaging and a Novel Hyperparameter Tuned Convolutional Neural Network" project, and won $10,000!

Shiv Mehtrotra-Varma competed in the Robotics category and placed fourth with his "The Virtual Cardiologist: Implementation of Three Novel Deep Learning Computational Pipelines Into An Inexpensive Portable Device to Identify Cardiovascular Pathologies And Assist in Rapid Clinical Decision Making" project, and won $1,000. He also won an award from the Association for Computing Machinery.

Native American night

Around 70 families gathered at Clark Intermediate School for Clovis Unified's 11th Annual Native American Family Night. The event put a spotlight on Native American culture through art and music, and it provided an opportunity for community connections. The Fresno American Indian Health Project Youth drumming group performed as families ate dinner and visited with each other and local organizations.

Local Native American artist Bobby Von Martin was the keynote speaker and shared his story of resilience with families. He showed some of his paintings and told the stories behind them, both historical and personal. Von Martin also led a watercolor painting lesson and shared tips and tricks for creating colorful artwork.

Hands-on learning at BR

Henna art was a student-favorite activity during Bud Rank Elementary's Multicultural Week. With the help of the Student Ambassador Group, students used scratch art supplies to trace their hand and then draw henna-like designs to decorate their hand. "It was really fun," said third grader Eden Carter. "You could just make up your own design. I did a flower in the middle and vines on my fingers." Said student ambassador Alexandria Telesmanic, "It was fun to help everyone learn something from a new culture and open their eyes to something different."

Future bright for Clovis Unified Class of 2024

Editor's note: Clovis Unified graduated 3,547 students in the Class of 2024. The following excerpts are from senior class speeches.

Buchanan High

Elana Coronado Ortiz

"We began our freshman year behind screens and distanced from each other. As we have wandered through high school, we have made many memories together. From attending football games, winning rallies, taking finals, boys and girls track winning state champs, orchestra traveling to Indianapolis, wrestling winning the big one, robotics traveling to Houston for Worlds, and many other accomplishments, there hasn't been a minute of our time here that won't be cherished. ... we are presented with a blank page before our eyes. High school has given us the tools to strive for greatness, but we must rise to the occasion."

Clovis Adult Education

Shamah Nassar

"I'm from a small village in Yemen, called Houf, where there is a lack of education especially for women. It is believed that a woman's job is to be a housewife, and she's not allowed to have any dreams. ... My experience at Clovis Adult Education has been the best experience I've ever had. CAE not only helped me learn English, but it helped me to know myself more than ever before. I started in Beginning ESL and finished with my high school diploma. My next step will be to go to college. ... I believe determination and hard work are the keys to success."

Clovis East High

Simran Rai

"To think about all the laughter and friendships that were made within the walls of our high school ... Together, we made so many core memories. Our time together as Clovis East Timberwolves was not only a time of great experiences, but also a period of self-discovery. We first arrived as young teens trying to get a hold of normal life, looking to fit in; however, we leave as young adults, ready to start taking our place within our society, and maybe a couple of inches taller, too. ... We have supported each other and demonstrated that Wolf-pack really does mean Family."

Clovis High

Patrick Palmer

"As we step into the next chapter of our lives, remember that the future is not a distant concept but a canvas waiting for us to paint our aspirations. Our dreams, ambitions and actions will sculpt the world we want to live in. The challenges we face may seem daunting, but we must recognize that within our hands lies the power to innovate, create positive change, and overcome adversity. The decisions we make, both big and small, will echo through time, influencing not only our own lives but also those of generations to come. ... Not all of us may have the answer to 'What are you going to do?' yet we all have the opportunity to decide who we will be when we leave."

Clovis North High

Elizabeth Fourchy, Jonathan Gerena & Luke Wong

JONATHAN: My favorite color is red – 12 years ago, in kindergarten, we introduced ourselves with that exact phrase, or something similar. Just a bunch of little kids saying our first hellos.

ELIZABETH: And now we are a bunch of almost adults saying our last goodbyes.

LUKE: The culmination of years of hard work, dedication, late nights and hours spent on TikTok have led us to this moment.

creating my schedule has allowed me to network and job shadow many local educational and city leaders, which has helped me envision what kind of leader I want to be and confirm my passion for my choice of career."

Annalise Vue

"I quickly discovered that the bonds made at Clovis Online were just as strong, if not stronger, than you can imagine. Through discussion meetings, virtual study groups, and collaborative projects, I connected with classmates from all walks of life, each bringing their unique perspectives and experiences to the table. Together, we navigated the challenges of online learning, supporting and encouraging one another, every step of the way."

Clovis West High

Ezri Liggett

"Whether you started in Clovis Unified or anywhere else on this beautiful planet – know that every single day you came to school, faced a stressful schedule or tumultuous home life – you walked into the unknown with bravery and brilliance. You did it again and again. ... [E]very single one of you has become a small, but mighty part of one another. We've all simultaneously built each other into who we are today. So it's scary to grow up and it's painful to watch yourself change, but everything that you've been through – the good, the bad, the drama, and the persistence – will only help you grow."

Gateway High

Mia Felan

"At the end of my junior year when I started recovering credits, I realized that I could get myself on track to graduate. This taught me that anything you put your mind to is possible. ... Being at Gateway has helped me get out of my comfort zone by meeting new people. I made friends that made my school days better and helped me look forward to coming to school. ... I owe this moment to my parents because without them, I wouldn't be the person I am today."

Ace Keller

"At Gateway, I found my people who gave me the support I needed, and I wouldn't have made it this far without them. I also wouldn't be here without my big brothers or my grandma. But if I named off every person and how they've affected my life, we'd be here for hours, so I'll try to keep this brief. To all of my teachers, thank you for never giving up on me, for seeing me as who I am and not what I was. Thank you for always pushing me to be better, even when I felt like better wasn't within reach."

ARI RECINOS: Our wonderful parents who support us kids as we go through one of the most challenging four years of our lives.

LUKE: And our staff and teachers who have inspired us to grow as students and people through their tireless work to give us the best possible experiences here at Clovis North.

Clovis Online

Hannah Cleaver: "The personalized schedule afforded to me by online learning allowed me to tailor my working habits to fit my needs. ... But perhaps the most significant reason for choosing Clovis Online was the ability to spend my Grammy's last four years of life with her. ... Being able to work from home gave me the freedom to be with, make memories with, laugh and cry with, and care for her while still receiving an education."

Ralphyal Kajitani: "At the age of 13, I decided to increase my involvement with my religious ministry. I committed to doing a certain number of hours each month, so Clovis Online has allowed me to honor my commitment. ... Having the flexibility of
