Dr. Leonard J. Portocarrero

Class of 1979

Dr. Portocarrero believes that his high school education was a stepping stone to his further achievements. He appreciates the work of his teachers for encouraging his intellect and creativity and thanks his family for their support. He completed pre-medical studies in zoology at Brigham Young University. He went on to complete his medical degree at SUNY a Buffalo School of Medicine, returning to Utah to serve as an intern, resident, and chief resident at Latter Day Saints Hospital. Board certified in internal medicine, Leonard serves as the Assistant Medical Director for the Intermountain Healthcare's Urgent Care facilities. Leonard makes time for community and church activities in Salt Lake City working within the Latin community as a Sunday School Teacher.
