Scott C. Sattler

Class of 1983

Scott is a life-long resident of Copiague. Some of Scott's fondest memories were being in Mr. Messerschmitt's class and attending the school trip to Washington, D.C. with his friends. As part of his high school curriculum, he took mechanical drawing and attended Wilson Technical Center for electrical, where he excelled.

After graduation, Scott enlisted in the U. S. Army where he reached the rank of Specialist E-4. After active duty he pursued a career in construction and met his wife Heather. Scott eventually started his own home improvement company. In 2001, he was offered a Facility, Safety and Security Manager position with a large company. After ten years the company was eventually sold and moved off of Long Island. Scott went back into the home improvement industry until another opportunity came along. Currently, Scott is the Operations Manager for XP Events.

Scott joined the Copiague Fire Department in 1998 and has devoted himself to protecting the community in which he lives. He has served as 2nd Lieutenant, 1st Lieutenant and Captain of the Hook, Ladder and Rescue Company. He has also served as the Director of the Underwater Search and Rescue Team. Scott has been awarded many service ribbons for the 9/11 attacks and Super Storm Sandy.

Over the years, Scott has coached CYO baseball, was a Cub Scout Leader and is currently an Assistant Scout Master with Boy Scout Troop 284. His personality and life skills serve as a role model for all of the scouts. Scott has shown the young men of the Troop that you can be a man without being a bully, that you can be strong and gentle at the same time. He shows them that even if you might not know how to do something; there is a way to figure it out. Scott has the patience to work with a scout to demonstrate how to do something, rather than just doing it for them. He takes the extra time and effort to help them learn the skill so that they are able to pass it on to the next scout.

Scott and his wife Heather have two children, Erik and Samantha. As a family, they all volunteer and are involved in the Copiague community.

“You never stand so tall as when you stoop to help a child.”
