

HALL OF ACHIEVEMENT

2017/2018
Journal

DR. CORINTHIA PRICE

Class of 1993

To Strengthen and Empower Individuals to Become Successful In the 21st Century

While in high school, Corinthia attended career technical school to earn a Culinary Arts Certificate. During college, she worked as a chef to support herself. Dr. Price has a Bachelor's degree in Professional Studies from New York Institute of Technology, a Master's Degree from C. W. Post and a Doctorate Degree in Educational Administration from Dowling College.

Dr. Corinthia Price is the founder and CEO of Workforce Career Readiness. Workforce Career Readiness specializes in workforce and economic development, 21st century college and career readiness, entrepreneurship education, transition planning and re-entry programs for women and incarcerated veterans and youth. Currently, she serves as Chief Workforce Development Strategist and Grant Reviewer for the U. S. Department of Education and U. S. Department of Labor. She is a former Research Policy Analyst. Dr. Price is a highly sought after keynote speaker and has presented her research at various national and international conferences.

Suffolk County Executive Steve Bellone, recently appointed Dr. Price to the Suffolk County Workforce Development Board. She is also a Board member of Suffolk County Sherriff's Citizens Advisory Board and Suffolk County Youth and Veterans Re-Entry Task Force. Additionally, Dr. Price serves on Hauppauge School District's School to Career Advisory Committee and on the Board of Directors of Empowerment Collaborative of Long Island (ECLI).

She is affiliated and has partnered with several organizations such as Business Leaders United, Upskill America Inc., Aspen Institute, Partner's Resource Network-PATH Project, among others. Dr. Price was recently accepted into Forbes Coaches Council where she will be writing and providing expert business articles and short tips related to publishing on Forbes.com. Most recently, her articles "Preparing Today's Workforce Nation with the New Skills for Automation" was published by Technical Education Magazine and "Being a Great Negotiator Starts with Becoming More Aware" was published by Forbes.

"Success is in the eye of the definer."