Our Programs & Resources

The Long Island Coalition Against Bullying is proud to offer Long Island communities a multitude of programs and resources aimed at assisting children, families and schools dealing with bullying including:

- Direct 1:1 Family Response by trained professionals to assist a family or child manage their situation.
- Smile Packages crafted specifically for and sent directly to the door of a child we hear about.
- Personal Development Programs like financial subsidies for therapy and mental health counseling, academic tutoring and self esteem building activities.
- School Assistance Programs such as 'push-in' style workshops, scholarships, leadership awards and curriculum development roles.
- Community Outreach through workshops, grants and advisory boards.

...and more!

About Us

The Long Island Coalition Against Bullying is a 501c(3) nonprofit organization aimed at answering three key questions related to bullying:

1. How do we find those impacted by bullying?
2. How do we help them?
3. How do we help prevent future instances of bullying from occurring?
