Augmentative Communication Device (ACD)

Terms and Conditions

Acceptable Use:

The Augmentative Communication Device (ACD), such as the iPad with Touch Chat, is an educational tool that can be used at home or in school to enhance communication. The East Quogue Code of Conduct and the Computer, Network, and Internet Use Policy applies to the use of the iPad and the Internet at home and in school. In addition, the following items further define the acceptable use of an ACD:

- a. Transmission of any material in violation of any national, state, or local laws and regulations is prohibited; this includes, but is not limited to, copyrighted material, threatening or obscene material, racially offensive material, or material protected by trade secret or contract.
- b. Vandalism will result in cancellation of privileges; vandalism is defined as any malicious attempt to harm or destroy the ACD itself, or software in the computer, on the network or to any network through the internet, or of another user, and this includes, but is not limited to, the uploading or creation of computer viruses.
- c. The use of the ACD for personal financial gain is prohibited.
- d. Installation of software by students or parents is prohibited.
- e. The Parent/Guardian is responsible for the cost of damages to the ACD and/or accessories associated with the ACD.

Security:

Security is a high priority and essential to proper maintenance of our network system. If you feel that you know of a security problem, you must notify the school immediately. Do not use other user accounts or attempt to log into the server network as anyone other than yourself.

The administration and teachers may revoke, deny, suspend, or cancel iPad privileges if the device is used for inappropriate purposes. The ACD remains the property of the East Quogue UFSD. The school district maintains the right to review all files at any time.

Parental responsibility:

It is the responsibility of the parent to provide appropriate oversight for the use of the ACD at home. The ACD is to be used exclusively for communication related purposes.

---

I have read and agree to the above terms and conditions and accept full responsibility for the ACD when it is used at home.
