P.O.S.E. (Playing On Stage Education) is a collaboration of theatre professionals Josh Evans, Danielle Lebens, and Stephanie Evans. We believe theatre education is about children gaining confidence in their abilities, learning work ethic, and strengthening their acting tools (including body, voice, and imagination). It's about growing individually while also working with others toward a common goal.

Many thanks to the Dads' Club for their continued support of the arts, and for providing a space for such programs to exist!
