Beach City Blocks on Thursdays

This is a hands-on class that is a fun, yet educational, experience where the student builds creations using mechanical parts not found in typical kits. It's hands-on approach utilizes STEAM principles to learn about different things that are all around us. Our unique lesson plans have designated levels and are presented step by step so you can follow along whether you're a beginner, advanced, or a true master builder. Come join the fun as you express your creativity with Beach City Blocks and make friends while you're at it!
