As we seek in this life for the new and exciting, in our haste we pass by the plain . . . the smile of a friend when discouragements come . . . a rose exquisitely made . . .
the glisten of raindrops . . . the flight of a dove . . .
all these pleasures are soon past and gone.

Take time to remember the Sons of Liberty . . . voices reverberating the "Star Spangled Banner." A single flower on an unknown grave and a flame atop a memorial recall the price paid for our liberty.

Life is precious. Don't waste a minute. Take time to enjoy simple things . . . a baby's first step . . . the handshake of friendship . . . or the ripple of the flag in the breeze. The moment is gone, but life has more meaning, your future is a little bit brighter. For though you have seen just one simple thing . . . as a memory it's

HOMEcomings brings graduates, memories

Homecoming spirit began to burn in the hearts of Bobcats early in the week with the parade and pep rally. A double assembly featured the '75 Front Porch Majority and Mafia with the '74 cheer and song leaders doing "Monster Mash." Ending the assembly with a sentimental touch, everyone joined in singing the school hymn. Many alumni returned along with Sky View students and their dates to the annual Homecoming Dance. Following the theme, dancers found "Souvenirs" of the past in a treasure chest full of pictures. "Time Line," a Salt Lake band, provided music.

Lyrics written to Homecoming theme, SOUVENIRS

Here are some memories
Of days you have lived
While finding the secrets
Of life
Written and etched
In the back of your mind
Suddenly relived again.

And here are the visions
Of days you have lived
The good and the bad of
Your youth.

You build up a wall
And pretend to belong
And somehow the good times
Live on.

What's new?

Walking down the hall after Christmas vacation, students compared mood rings. Girls proudly showed off their bright blue rings, indicating a loving disposition. Black rings vanished as girls tried not to reveal gloomy, depressed moods. Quilted material on guys' shirts and the "oriental look" in girls' clothing became the fad for '75-'76. Skirt lengths dropped below the knee to add the 50's look to the 70's fashions.

Celebrate

A week of celebrations for the Bicentennial started off with a display in the Student Center. Exhibits from each department depicting the past showed how things were 200 years ago. Thursday's activities featured a dress-up day with dancing in the afternoon. Students wore outfits depicting the past 200 years of America's history. Ballroom dancing in the Student Center, '50's and classic dancing in the girls' gym, and a rock dance in the boys' gym gave everyone a chance to dance "his own way."

Cleaning the Student Center, working at part-time jobs, dragging main, having parties, eating, attending school and social functions occupied the after hours of the more than 1,700 students. After a hard day of six different classes, everyone needed to find his own way to relax. To some it was going home to the refrigerator and TV, to others it was window-shopping, dragging main, or just visiting with friends. Students could also be found bowling, watching shows, roller skating, dancing and watching ball games and other sport events.

Below: Charlie and Mr. Wilson arrange a shooting match to be held between Frank Butler and the local sure-shot. Right: Pawnee Bill, Dolly, Frank and his date converse at a party held in Buffalo Bill's honor. Center: Charlie, Chief Sitting Bull and Buffalo Bill discuss their plans of merging with a rival troupe. Bottom: Frank answers Annie's question, "Have you ever loved someone?"

Lights!

Presenting "Annie Get Your Guns" as the Bicentennial play, Director Mrs. Carlson and cast members reinacted the contests, travels and man-landing of Annie Oakley. Annie saunters into town to sell some quail to the local proprietor. The fact that the birds are not all shot up earns her the privilege of shooting in a match against Frank Butler, sharpshooter of Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show. While polishing her gun for the match, Frank wanders over and asks her what she has there. "It's a rifle," answers Annie, "Ain't you got eyes?" She then looks up and sees the handsome man. "Yeah, you got eyes!" Annie falls in love on the spot but that doesn't stop her from beating him in the match. Annie joins the Wild West Show and is off on travels around the world. After Annie performs a spectacular stunt that makes her the star, Frank leaves the show. Finally, Frank and Annie decide to have a shoot-out to see who is really the World's best shot. Annie's friend, Chief Sitting Bull, fixes Annie's guns and informs her, "You can't get a man with a gun." After missing a few shots, Annie concedes the match to Frank and wins a proposal from him.

Left: Tommy and Winnie meet accidentally as hungry train passengers rush to dinner. Below: Annie tells a bedtime story in which the characters hold a strange resemblance to Frank and herself. Bottom left: Chief Sitting Bull and a warrior decide to make Annie a member of their tribe. Bottom right: Annie asks, "Am I an Indian?"

Boogie

With blue and white crepe paper streamers serving as decorations and Timeline playing the music, the Homecoming dance became the first dance of the year. The Senior Prom followed with the theme "Windows of the World" carried out on white plastic with slides of Cache Valley showing through French Windows. "Sam Hill," a band made up of last year's alumni, added music to the Christmas dance sponsored by the Sophomores. A ball of mirrors and a royalty backdrop draped in blue plastic carried out the theme "Midnight Blue." KRSP disc jockeys Alan Hage and Mark VanWagner gave away record albums to the best dancing couples while their dancing machine played music and entertained couples at a Sock Hop. Choosing "Country Boy" for the FHA-FFA Girls' Choice Dance meant hay bales and a painted backdrop of trees for the picture-taking booth. Couples caught dancing too close were either sent to "Marrying Sam," alias Mr. Summers, or to the County Jail in the corner by Sheriff Peterson. The Junior Prom, last dance of the year, carried out the theme, "Do You Know Where You're Going To?" Couples who went found refreshments served on a balcony tied off with green plastic which overlooked a tropical greenhouse dancing floor.

Saturdays, holidays and after school until eight o'clock found cast members rehearsing for the musical, "1776."

The cast of 42 boys and four girls recreates the battles of Congress prior to the signing of the Declaration of Independence. With Massachusetts the only colony in favor of independence, Congressman John Adams and his Pennsylvania delegate friend, Benjamin Franklin, work together to influence other colonies to their side. After Virginia's delegate, Thomas Jefferson, writes up the Declaration, it is presented to Congress for approval. A heated debate follows with a walk-out by the South over an issue of slavery. Finally, the Declaration is passed and each member in Congress adds his name to it with the Liberty Bell proclaiming independence in the background. Ron Ross, a professor at USU, helped with a specialty number, "Cool, Cool, Considerate Men."

Top: Delaware delegate, Ceasar Rodney, returns while sick with cancer to cast his vote for independence. Above: The courier and congressional janitors sing of friends killed during the war in Mama, Look Sharp. Right: Thomas Jefferson, Ben Franklin and John Adams eye an egg while trying to decide between the dove, the turkey or the eagle to be the national bird of the United States.

Top: "That's me!" sighs Richard Henry Lee as he encourages Adams and Franklin to let him introduce a new bill for independence. Center: The congressman from New York adds his name to the Declaration of Independence. Bottom: Congressmen Thomas Jefferson, Robert Livingston, Roger Sherman and Benjamin Franklin tell their reasons for not writing the Declaration. Below: Pennsylvania delegate John Dickinson tries to persuade James Wilson against voting for independence.

Show 'n Tell

"How did he do that?" Whispers circulated throughout the audience as a magician from National School Assemblies proceeded to cut his lady assistant in half while she stood in a box. The magician presented only one of the special hours of entertainment that brightened up the normal routine of classwork with assemblies. Screaming girls in the audience accented the performance by Weber State College Student Productions when band members sang Your Mama Don't Dance. An assembly by student bands around the school demonstrated musical talents and gave students the opportunity to perform for an audience.

Cheer

Pep assemblies gave the student-body a chance to encourage, support and praise the athletes. A special pep assembly after school also gave students a chance to use their creativity as each club had the opportunity to present a skit. Skits included the Key Club's portrayal of a resurrecting Sky View Spirit and a presentation of blue and white pompon's to the Songleaders, the Literary Club's detective reading on finding the Sky View Spirit, and a simulated diving exhibition by swimmers. Cheer and Songleaders boosted school spirit at pep assemblies by teaching the student-body new cheers and by seeing which class would cheer the loudest. They also gave Sweet Tart and Big Hunk awards to honor fine individual efforts at games and meets. Each month the Sky View Booster Club, composed of local merchants, took a few minutes to give an Athlete of the Month award to students with outstanding achievement in sports.

Deadline

Instruction received at a BYU summer workshop helped senior staff members add fads and fashions and after hours to the Student Life section, change type style and vary running heads to a single word and segmented copy blocks. These alterations gave this year's book a more modern and updated look as compared to previous years. Remembering the Bicentennial, Le-

Anne Nielsen worked on the tissue paper flag collage for the Aurora cover. To better acquaint themselves with the task of publishing a yearbook, three junior staff members attended a workshop at USU. They later learned that late nights after school, overworked typewriters, a race with a mailtruck and photographer—editor conflicts became routine at deadline time.

Report

While casually glancing around her Creative Writing class one morning, a certain yearbook staff member noticed Jim Keyes, editor of the Catonian, wring his hands with a look of utter frustration on his face. "What's the matter, Jim?" she asked. "Deadline," he replied. "And what's worse than that is it's for the Grizzly Undertaker issue and I can't say anything derogatory about Logan because my mother is a librarian there." This problem, along with the normal run-of-the-mill hassles such as photographer-editor conflicts, broken typewriters and an advisor who didn't like the last article, created headaches as the deadlines approached. Exchanging issues with 45 other schools from the western states helped with new ideas.

Improvising skits, the Improvisation Team practiced during class time to prepare for performances. Given three words for the first round, the eight members had 15 minutes to think of a skit containing those words. Having thirty seconds for the second round, imaginations raced to improvise with one word. In the thirty second preparation time for the third round, members worked out an act for the given situation. Members formed a piano, swinging doors, pencil sharpener and other objects through their acting. After working with Improv, students realized the importance of imagination and originality. Stressing creativity in writing, the Literary Club worked toward entering students in writing contests. Many hours of work went into making a slide tape presentation called, "Fantasy Reaching Into A Dream," which explained about fantasy and how to achieve it. As publishers of the Catalyst, reading a collection of manuscripts written by students and putting them together became the main project at their after school meetings. A creative group called the "Super 8 Film Makers" worked hard shooting films to enter contests. Some after school activities included a music concert, lectures on "How to Earn Money With Your Writings" and a float for the Homecoming Parade.

ANXIOUS

Debate ranged from extemporaneous speeches to the debate topic: "Development and Allocation of Scarce World Resources Should Be Controlled by An International Organization." Members developed their skills and talents during interschool meets. Staying up late to work on card files and catching the bus at 6:00 a.m. to attend meets became the rule rather than the exception. One debater stated, "I learned so much about current events." Stephanie Spoerry and Dan Felton received a first place in the Novice Division at State Bar. David James and Vince VanMoorlehem made semifinals at BYU after competing against teams from five other states. Renate Harrison participated in a Bicentennial Debate at the State Capitol while Mary Lisa Peterson orated at Wasatch Front, Patricia Morris placed in the top six at the golden Spike meet.

Talent

Supporting all band activities and displaying a wide variety of talent, the Sophomore Band participated in competitions and concerts. After receiving fourteen superior ratings at the Region I Solo-Ensemble competition in November, Mr. Manning stated proudly, "This year's band is one of the liveliest Sophomore Bands we've had at Sky View!" More practices brought the Christmas Concert in December, the Presidents' Concert in February and the Spring Concert in April. Playing music as difficult as most high school bands, Sophomores performed throughout Cache County, touring junior highs and high schools.

A tour to Ricks for an exchange assembly gave Orchestra members an opportunity to listen to and play for a college orchestra. Students presented the Fall Concert in the Student Center. Region showed promise in many areas of competition; both groups—Solo and Ensemble—received superior ratings. Maurine Plowman and David Pack participated in the String Soloists division and with David Baer and Lisa Bills in a String Quartet. The orchestra played Hallelujah in the Christmas Concert while the choir and alumni sang. In March Sky View hosted Logan and Provo orchestras.

Stomp

Summer practices at six o'clock in the morning turned out to be worth the effort when the Sky View Marching Band took second at the Calgary Stampede. Their efforts then turned to other parades and half time shows, including Sky View's Homecoming. A commercial half time show, America '76, became part of the band's performance to help celebrate the Bicentennial. Sky View won first place competing against Carbon, Murray and other marching bands at the Utah State University Homecoming Parade. On December 2 they went to Salt Lake City to perform for the State School Board Association Convention.

From the Symphonic Band came many all-staters and participants in various music activities throughout the state. Region music activity was spearheaded by this organization in unprecedented participation producing 21 entries in region activity and claiming fifteen first division ratings. Combined with the Sophomore Band and Orchestra's entries, Sky View's total entries and ratings more than doubled the average ratings of the other schools in the district. The band also accompanied the Sounds of Zion during the Presidents Concert in February playing, Stars and Stripes Forever, American Salute and Presidents Trio. A trip planned for early spring and a Region One festival finished the year for band members.

Helping to boost spirit, the Pep Band combined a dance step with an instrument swing for a marching routine that spread spirit throughout the halls. Playing China Grove, Get It On and Smoke on the Water, members gave cheer and song leaders a rhythmic back-up. Through performances at USU and the Pocatello Mini-Dome, as well as Sky View, they supported basketball and football players. Special concerts for armed forces and assemblies gave Pep Band a chance to play classic, march and rock music. Flying to the beat of the Marching Band, the Flag Twirlers' red, white and blue flags commemorated the Bicentennial year. Flag Twirlers prepared for performances by practicing before and after school hours. Marchers and twirlers combined routines for half time shows at many games including Sky View-Bear River basketball and Aggie football. Performances varied from informal parties and a tea with Roy's Flag Twirlers to marching in Peach Days and other parades. Improvisations made up of adlibbed solos during such songs as Corazon and Blues For Poland gave Jazz Band members a chance to expand their talents. An electric synthesizer, a bass and a guitar added special effects to performances. Informal jazz concerts held after a formal band concert and during refreshment breaks in the Student Center increased in popularity throughout the year.

others." "I like to go to the different wards." "It's really neat!" They sang Tiny King and Who is This in Manger Sleeping at the Christmas Concert and performed at Spring, Fall and other concerts. Boys' Glee also performed at these concerts.

One hundred thirty students combined their talents to form the A Cappella Choir. The navy blue sports coats and maroon slacks of the boys complemented the maroon formals of the girls. Singing songs that varied from the peaceful, Movin' On to the big sound of the Hallelujah Chorus, they visited the Primary Children's Hospital and performed at malls throughout Salt Lake. While hosting the Region One Solo and Small Ensemble Festival, several choir members received high ratings. They also cut a record and performed a spring concert at Snow College.

Peppy

Building stronger school spirit, cheer and song leaders spent many hours preparing pep assemblies, hall rallies and running up and down the halls yelling school cheers. Going along with Logan's joke about Sky View Farmers, cheerleaders dressed in overalls and did a dance to John Denver's song, Thank God I'm A Country Boy, for the Logan game. To congratulate athletes for outstanding performance, the cheerleaders gave a Big Hunk award to guys and Sweetheart award to the girls. During the summer clinic at USU, both cheer and song leaders won trophies and blue ribbons with excellent ratings. Cheerleaders hosted a breakfast for the basketball team.

Precision

Striving for perfection, the Vistauns began the summer with a Get Acquainted party at Sweetwater. New-comers united with last year's group, while both acquired suntans. A workshop at Ben Lomond gave the girls a chance to exchange ideas with other drill teams. Current music set the mood for routines. A special excitement arose in each member before Logan and Homecoming games. Practice paid off at Calgary when the Vistauns took second place. Money from that award, the Vistaun Review and each girl's dues, helped pay for the new blue and white uniforms.

Entertain

Singing This Land is Your Land and Save the Country while wearing red, white and blue uniforms, the Front Porch Majority remembered the Bicentennial year. Country Roads and Let Me Be There brought country western and pop music to their concerts. Preparing to perform, members worked hard with Mrs. Roylance to learn dance steps and with Mr. Loosle for just the right tempo and volume on each song. The seven member band and four member light and sound crew set the mood at early morning practices and performances of each song the twenty-four members sang. Concerts held throughout Cache Valley included the Christmas Concert, performances for State Farm Insurance, USU and the Seminary Continental breakfast. Such performances gave the Front Porch a chance to share their talents. The announcement of a performance brought such comments as, "The Front Porch — Oh, good!" and "Great, I'll be there."

Motivate

Sponsoring Sky View Has Spirit Week before the January basketball game with Logan, the Spirit Club helped unite students and excite the team for a heartstopping victory on the court. Logan Has Clash Day found the studentbody wearing mismatched clothing, contrasting well with suits and long dresses on Sky View At Its Best Day. A bubble gum blowing contest, Hats Off to Sky View and Blue and White Days completed the week's activities. Knocking over garbage cans and falling into ditches caused problems for Spirit Club members as they attempted to toilet paper football players' houses the night prior to Homecoming. A pancake breakfast welcomed the players upon their arrival at school the next morning. Bringing gifts and doing favors for Secret Sisters kept FHA members busy. After choosing Secret Sisters, meeting officers and eating chili dogs at the Opening Social, members thought up peanut butter, A girl going to the doctor and other words and situations for the Improvisation Team to act out. They held a fashion show, played games, participated at parties and conventions, and planned the Girls' Choice Dance.

Challenge

For the fifth consecutive year the FFA represented Utah at the Kansas City National Convention. The Dairy Foods Team of twelve students won fourth in the nation. They also won a national Chapter award for the third year in a row. In the Dairy cattle contest they placed eighth. Other awards received included state crops, dairy cattle and the dairy produce judging contest. Members of the chapter also enjoyed themselves at roller skating, swimming and dancing parties. Some members participated in the Richmond Black and White days and in the County Fair.

Culture

Members of the French Club centered their activities around French food. They held several fondue parties at members' houses and in the canyon. Helping new native American students get acquainted, the Nash' Doi Club held parties and after-school meetings. Working on projects to stress their heritage encouraged club members' participation. Making a slide film presentation on Spanish Club activities became a project for many members. To earn their way to Mexico during summer vacation, they sold candy bars. Many members of the club spent long hours learning Spanish dances to present at programs. They celebrated Day of the Dead, Christmas and other traditional holidays. German Club members learned about Germany by tasting German candy and food, singing German songs and listening to lectures on German customs and life styles.

Dedicated

Making sure the lights stay bright and the sound system clear, the dedicated Lights and Sound Crew spent many early and late hours preparing for productions. While adjusting light positions, changing burnt out light bulbs and shooing the bugs out of the sound system, they developed skill and know-how. Using this new talent, members created the atmosphere for the school plays, musicals and assemblies. The prop crew had its hands full making sure Anne had her gun and Ben Franklin his cane. Getting out of classes and staying after school all dressed up in their finest grubbies, the scenery crew members learned to handle a hammer and paint brush with great poise. Mending ripped costumes and altering dresses, the costume committee members helped actors and actresses feel comfortable in their costumes.

Compete

Using Shoringi-Kempo, the leading style from Japan, Karate Club members performed demonstrations for church organizations, basketball half times, and at USU.

Members worked out twice a week under David Kerr, holder of a brown belt, and once a month with Yukio Kono, head of USU's Karate Club. Practicing after school, Chess Club members challenged each other for rankings. They competed against other schools before region basketball games. Skiing at Park City and Beaver Mountain taught Ski Club members more about each other and about skiing. An example of what not to do on skis, advisor Val Robinson broke his leg while skiing at Beaver. At a Saturday ski outing at Park City three club members had the not so pleasant experience of having their skis and equipment, valued at over $200 each, stolen.

Represent

Presenting new pompons to the cheerleaders and winning club award at Spirit Night began the Key Club's year of service. Painting the SV for Homecoming, shampooing the carpet in the student center, ushering at assemblies, distributing food to the needy during Christmas as a subsidiary of the Kiwanis, they worked to promote school and civic projects. Through the general disorganization, students picked up a lot of information in Young Americans. The extracurricular class-club was designed to teach the humanities and basic arts that were of benefit and interest to the students enrolled. Using films and filmstrips, members prepared for a TV quiz program of post-high school tests and college entrance exams. Working with other history classes and various high schools in Utah, the MUN Club tried to simulate the workings of the United Nations. Assigned to represent Iran, Venezuela, and Togo at General Assembly during May at USU, members tried to think what that country would think.

Action

DECA members competed in various contests against students from schools throughout Utah in a Career Development Conference at USU. Members chose individual areas such as fashion shows, advertising, marketing research, job interview and public speaking for their competition. Winners traveled to Chicago where they competed on a national level. DECA members also participated in a twelve hour dance-a-thon for muscular dystrophy in February. Answering the question, "Why did I become a teacher?" panel members Miss Barnes, Mr. Chambers and Mr. Jessop gave Future Teachers of America insight on reasons for becoming a teacher. Representatives from the Student Educational Association at USU told of activities that student teachers participate in on a University level, and gave them a clearer picture of what they might expect on campus. Some of their activities consisted of a field trip to Edith Bowen School and a fall swimming party. Future Business Leaders of America sponsored a winter Vocational Education Week, displaying typewriters and office equipment from the early models all the way to modern IBM. Money earned from bake sales held during noon hours and other fund-raising projects went toward their big closing service project. Visiting the IRS and different banks and businesses in Salt Lake, Ogden and Logan, FBLA members got a better idea of what life in an office is like.

Inform

Expressing student opinions and problems, student senators discussed a special Bicentennial week, leg and ping-pong contests, support of school functions and pep assembly schedules. Coordinating Council members also talked about pep assemblies and planned a special one where each club and organization presented a skit. Planning the Homecoming assembly and dance, sponsoring a split assembly and enforcing the dress standards became the duties of Girls' and Boys' Association.

Leadership

Working through the summer vacation to prepare for the school year, the 1975-76 Executive Council laid plans for Sky View's Bicentennial classes. Initiating the incoming sophomores and planning the Homecoming Pep Assembly occupied their time early in the year. The Executive Council sponsored the Get Acquainted Dance for which Rosewood provided music. A Sock Hop held after the Sky View-

Bear River basketball game and featuring a KRSP radio disc jockey, helped raise money for a sign proclaiming Home of the Sky View Bobcats. A leg contest for the boys added money and publicity for the sign. A new table to work around in the Executive room not only helped the Executive Council, but also the yearbook staff in the rush to meet their deadlines.

SENIORS decorate the Prom in a unique way

Slides of Cache Valley and foreign countries emphasized the Senior Prom theme, "Windows of the World." Officers planned Senior Week, an assembly, class party and Lagoon Day. President Jim Chambers felt that being president was "a good experience that will help me in the future." He also played football, baseball and skied with the ski club. Kim Seeholtzer observed, "Working with great people makes being vice-president fun." He enjoyed skiing, hiking, camping, hunting and diving for the swim team. Jim and Kim performed with the Front Porch while all three officers participated in choir and speech. Renate Harrison, Secretary, took part in debate, National Honor Society, flag twirling, FHA and Spirit Club. She liked to cook, be outdoors, play the piano, work with her dog, ski and read. "Being secretary is fun," she stated, "and I hope to see everyone again at out class reunions."

JUNIOR officers
visit homebound, plan Junior week

Visiting students unable to attend school, the Junior class officers showed concern for class members. Claiming "Sky View has class," the officers prepared an assembly, the Jr. Prom and a special Junior week. President Nolan Taylor kept active with the Front Porch Majority, A Cappella Choir, All-State Choir, football, basketball and the musical. Roger Manning, Vice-President, enjoyed hunting, water skiing, basketball and Symphonic and Marching Band. Kaylene Young, Secretary, involved herself with the Performing Glee, Improvisation Team and Drama Productions. She also acted as a student director for the Musical.

SOPHOMORES WIN HOMECOMING COMPETITION

Sophomores started the year off right by winning first place on their Homecoming float. Class officers - David Christiansen, Leslie Jones and Linda Mickelson - helped plan an assembly and dance in December as well as the Sophomore class assembly. They also voted against changing the hair standard. Even with the responsibility, the officers felt their positions were fun and a good way to get involved. David's spare time included hunting, motorcycle riding and football. "I love to keep busy, meet people and get involved," Leslie said. Participating in girls' athletics and FHA filled her time. All three enjoyed tennis and skiing. Linda also participated in FHA and enjoyed playing the piano. The officers appreciated the support the advisors and sophomores gave them during the year and hoped their Junior year would be as much fun.

Here rests his head
upon the lap of Earth
A Youth, to Fortune
and to Fame unknown.
Fair Science frowned not on his humble birth,
And Melancholy marked
him for her own.

Large was his bounty,
and his soul sincere,
Heaven did a recompense
as largely send:
He gave to Misery
(all he had) a tear,
He gained from Heaven ('twas all he wished) a friend.

No farther seek his merits to disclose,
Or draw his frailties from their dread abode, (There they alike in trembling hope repose,)
The bosom of his Father and his God.

SKY VIEW'S SCHOOL HYMN

*Where the mountain peaks meet the starry sky,
Where the green hills meet the blue,
Stands a place close by with its standards high,
It's our school, our own Sky View.*

*There's the blue and white and a golden hue
We will long remember too.
It's a place close by, with its standards high,
It's our school, our own Sky View.*

*We will always say as we go our way,
And of this it can be told,
The friendships dear we have made while here
Are a treasure more than gold.*

*Where the mountain peaks meet the starry sky,
Where the green hills meet the blue,
Stands a place close by with its standards high,
It's our school, our own Sky View.*

Instructors lecture for hours,
Give confusing assignments,
Administer surprise tests,
And all this repeated,

SCHOOL BOARD, PRINCIPAL strive for improved relations

Meeting once a month, the Cache County School Board discussed matters ranging from field trip proposals to students wishing to drop out of school and money appropriations. The School Board's ban on a proposed tour of the Marching Band to the Philadelphia Bicentennial Celebration created much controversy and prompted many letters to the Editor of both school and local newspapers. A salad bar approved by the Board for the cafeteria satisfied appetites at lunch time. The School Board also worked with the Administration to improve relationships between students and themselves.

Right: Superintendent C. Bryce Draper. Below: Cache County School Board members: Clifford J. Stauffer, Doris W. Budge, Mark B. Lindlay, Reed R. Durtschi, Lyle R. Cooley, Keith D. Hansen.

Coming back to school an average of two nights a week, Dr. Stephen Thurston attended as many extra-curricular events as his schedule allowed. While attending a meeting in Roy, Principal Thurston took time to go to the girls' region swim meet to wish each participant good luck. Afterwards, the girls commented on Mr. Thurston's interest and concern for students. Major problems dealt with population and gave Mr. Thurston cause to worry as the school needed more class rooms, teachers, lockers, extra gym and cafeteria space.

Top left: Mr. Thurston seems to be whispering to Mr. Benson, "See that kid with THE HAIR? You go that way, I'll go this way!" Top right: Bus transportation is arranged by telephone for the next away game. Left: Sorting through his files, Mr. Thurston finds the information he needs for a school board meeting. Above: Principal Thurston shows off his socks and rolled up pant-legs on "Wild Sock Day."

By advising the Senior class, Vice-principal Leon West showed his concern for the welfare and education of students. Many thought Vice-principal Myron Benson only considered hair lengths important, but he kept busy with the Junior class, assemblies and dances. Bringing his family to SV from Olympus, Mr. Eardly, sophomore counselor, said he enjoyed it here. Mr. Taggart, senior counselor, and Mrs. Smith, junior counselor, talked to parents, teachers and college personnel to smooth problems concerning students. Mrs. Blair kept busy balancing 150 accounts and keeping track of all finances. Attendance secretary, Mrs. Buttars, recorded names of absent students. Counting milk and selling lunch tickets occupied Mrs. Low's time. Mrs. Moulton received grade transcripts and student records. Mrs. Ransom, Mr. Thurston's secretary handled correspondence.

Top right: Counselors: Don Eardly, Cleo Smith and Keith Taggart discuss vocational opportunities available to students. Above: Mr. Benson looks stunned at a question a student asks him. Right: Mr. West enjoys his meal at a Spirit Club banquet.

Janitors' summer duties ranged from draining and cleaning the swimming pool to clipping and watering the lawns. Custodians reported Sky View students as basically very clean in comparison to other high schools, but added that their biggest gripe was "garbage not being put in wastebaskets." Nine janitors, including one lady and a Saturday check-up crew, worked eight hours a day to keep the school in shape.

JANITORS, COOKS and BUS DRIVERS keep busy with students' demands

Twelve bus drivers chauffeured students to and from school, an average of fifty miles a day, in buses getting six to seven miles to the gallon. Asked why he became a bus driver, one said, "It's because I enjoy high school kids." With the addition of a salad bar in the cafeteria, students not wanting hot lunches could have a choice of a fruit or tossed salad with crackers and milk. Hamburgers and fries were still served, but even with the great variety of meals most students still preferred pizza and tacos.

Business for Bobcats, a simulated office, designed its own forms and letterheads giving students a view into the world of business. Typing shipping orders, letters and many other forms, students learned to apply their skills through practical usage. A field trip provided students with an inside look into the use of computers, up-to-date filing systems and typists in today's business world.

Students learn many aspects of BUSINESS

Taking inventory for Sears and managing the school musical gave Marketing students practical experience. A speaker from the FBI added variety to the regular class schedule. Rotation among machines gave students a chance to do duplication, dictation and key punch. To become skilled at Shorthand took students many hours of practice and drills. Accounting used practice sets while Record Keeping classes set up simulated books for the Dress Works and the Competition to show the purpose of keeping records.

New program introduced in SCIENCE classes

Some of the students taking Science classes learned through a new program called ISIS, meaning Individualized Science Instruction System. Sky View, one of the first high schools to use this program, tested it to find its merits. The program utilized mini courses for the individual student to cover relevant subjects such as weather and ecology. A new Environmental Science lab located at the northeast corner of the football field helped involve students in Science.

HEALTH FAIR excites interest, draws crowd

Attending the special all-day Health Fair helped students see different techniques in hospital care. Demonstrating the importance of oxygen tents, showing some successful plastic surgery and testing students' blood pressure, brought comments like, "I didn't know that's how they check your blood pressure." "That's neat to know they can do that with plastic surgery!" Classroom studies focused on Health Fair topics and the effects of alcohol, drugs and tobacco on human life.

Top: Oxygen tent is topic of interest for students at Health Fair. Right: Julie Phippen checks Darla Pond's blood pressure at Health Fair. Above: Slides about plastic surgery are explained by Chris Skinner.

Calculus, Geometric Models spark MATH enthusiasm

Starting each day meant attending the new calculus class for some students. Others studied models set up to demonstrate theories used in solving geometric problems. Consumer Math students compiled prices at Cache Valley grocery stores. This price list, when compared with last year's survey, showed price fluctuations. Proving a great success, the four-phase Driver's Ed. program ended its second year. Each day of classroom instructions, simulation, range-driving and road-driving brought a new experience, idea or improvement in driving skills to many students.

America's number one CRIME discussed

Logan Police officers told sociology classes "shoplifting is America's number one crime." They talked to students about causes and controls of shoplifting. Indian students talked to sociology classes where questions about racial prejudices topped the discussion. Sociology students toured the Utah State Prison and talked to some of the prisoners. In psychology classes Mr. Jim Hooker showed the relationship of hypnotism to psychology by hypnotizing some students. A panel of students from the Utah State Mental Hospital cleared up ideas and misconceptions people have of "the crazy people." World Cultures and Ancient World History students toured the Museum of Natural History and the Park Museum in Salt Lake City. Students saw bones of prehistoric animals, artifacts and original paintings of many famous artists.

Equipment stretches MEDIA CENTER use

Bulging at the seams, the Media Center became the place for music as well as books. New equipment included a stereo (ambiophonic) system used in the study of music.

To use with the system, the Center purchased two complete music programs: the Time-Life Story of Great Music and the EMC Appreciation of Music series. Also, added to the collection, were two popular color monitors, and a new video tape recorder. Filming of classroom projects, as well as the use of recorded tapes kept the television cameras, monitors and recorders running just about all the time.

New Program teaches Sophomores SPELLING

Using an eighteen-week course called "Breakthrough," Sophomore students hoped to do just that—break through problem spelling. Classes used cassettes and played word games using their dictionaries which helped them learn the meaning of words as they learned to spell them. Classes challenged each other to spelling bees to display their knowledge. Working in groups, some classes put skits together of their favorite commercials and performed them for the rest of the class.

Bachelor Survival, Heritage Arts increase HOME EC. popularity

Swinging into action the new Bachelor Survival class studied dating and money managing, sewed on aprons, did cooking demonstrations and laundry. Second term, as the boys moved on to Auto Care, the girls in Powder Puff Mechanics rotated to Heritage Arts. Students learned knitting, embroidery, needle point, quilting and macrame. They crocheted rugs and did crewel embroidery on pillows and pictures.

Seniors find success in CADET TEACHING

Cadet Teaching, first begun about six years ago, gave high school Seniors an exposure to teaching. The success of this program has been shown in the continuous increase in enrollment, now over forty-five students.

One Junior high and seven elementary schools cooperated with the program.

P.E.'s individual sports for boys only became a thing of the past as girls also participated in ping pong, tennis, golf, badminton, etc. Modern dancers performed for spirit rallies and general audiences. They held a special clinic with over 65 participants from schools throughout the valley.

Nurses and students learn at Sunshine Terrace, Hospital

Two weeks at Sunshine Terrace and three weeks at Logan Hospital gave Nurses' Aid students experience in nursing skills. Taking blood pressure and temperatures, walking patients and answering light signals taught students about nursing. A blood pressure clinic for teachers verified that a few had high blood pressure as they already knew. Classroom study brought new knowledge of body systems, diseases and their treatments. Advanced art students learned to create by painting a barn, casting jewelry, carving wood and painting with acrylics. Advanced Ceramic students, with the help of the larger kiln, created modern pieces. Ceramic classes learned the art of making vases, pots and simple modern art forms.

Powder Puff Mechanics invades INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Powder Puff Mechanic girls learned about the upkeep of an automobile. Mr. Gilgen taught them the parts of the engine, how it works and how to change a tire. They learned what's involved in a tune-up, buying a car, insuring it and changing the oil and brake fluid. Vocational Ag students learned to test soil and milk. They also studied about raising, vaccinating and preparing animals for market. Growing crops, repairing farm equipment and building trailers made a well-rounded program.

BOBCATS

Scoring the first three times they got the ball, offensive players hit Bonneville, Idaho hard and added yardage 274-180 in Bobcats favor. Todd Williams with 87 yards rushing and Brad Oldroyd with 73 made a touchdown and stretched the score to 28-12.

TACKLE

Next Sky View faced Bear River. After a 94 yard drive, Tim Kohler took a handoff and raced 32 yards for the first touchdown of the game. The score became 7-0 after a successful PAT kick by Clark Warnick. Bear River's only hope came late in the first half when they narrowed the lead to 7-6. With 5:26 remaining in the 3rd quarter, Brad Thomas intercepted a pass and made the next touchdown. Final score: 35-6.

TOUGH

Third came Logan for the Bobcat squad to devastate. Romney Stadium filled with roaring fans who cheered when Allan Maughan passed to flanker Jim Chambers, who scored the first touchdown. Sky View dominated, and the fifth and sixth touchdowns came through exciting plays of 58 and 83 yards. The Grizzlies suffered a 40-0 loss while SV quarterback Allan Maughan proved he was one of the "best in region."

OPONENTS

After losing to Weber, the Bobcats furiously went after Box Elder. Bruce Godderidge played his finest offensive game of the year while a defensive trio of David Falslev, Monte Lucherini and Richard Morris limited the Bees rushing to only 126 yards compared to SV's 281. Final score, 34-6 gave the Bobcats another victory. Roy came next; and though the Sky View squad led at times, the unbeaten Royals remained unbeaten and Bobcats ended the season with a 4-5 record.

JV and Soph pull out with a 7-1, 5-3 record

Long hours of learning new techniques and preparing for competition enabled the Junior Varsity squad to win seven out of eight games. They outscored their opponents 116-37 in the first six region games. Box Elder was the first to be defeated. Bobcats defense held opponents scoreless in the next three games against Bonneville, Bear River and Logan while offensive players scored a total of 48 points. One point made all the difference in a victorious win over Weber and a discouraging loss to Box Elder. Bobcats rallied to end their season with a win over Roy, 27-6.

Tackling the football season with spirit and dedication, Sophomores' total points outnumbered their opponents 121-63. After a preseason victory over Ogden, Bobcats confronted Bear River twice and defensive players allowed them no touchdowns in either game. Struggling next against Bonneville, Logan and Weber, Sophomores found themselves with the short end of the score in three close games. Region play continued and offensive players outscored Box Elder and Roy to make a 5-3 record.

SOPHOMORE FOOTBALL TEAM—Row one: Bill Heaps, David Lawrence, Lane Kendrickson, Mark Bigelow, Jon Warnick, Bruce Pierce, Duane Weber, Ted Johnson, David Murray. Row two: Craig Bagley, Bart Spackman, Allan Smart, David Otteson, Billy Weston, Daron Mangum, Mike Dahle, Darin Huggie, Alan Funk, Todd McDermaid, Jim Anderson. THINCLADS

Placing ninth in state and third in region, the Cross Country team improved over last year's record. Every afternoon dedicated members ran 2 1/2 to 5 miles preparing for time trials held once a week. The top seven runners competed in the weekly meet.

PLACE

Junior Mike Clawson placed second in region and twelfth in the state meet, a promising figure for next year.

NINTH

In a meet with Logan, the Thinclads took the first five places and earned fifteen points, the lowest winning score possible in Cross Country.

STATEWIDE

Returning Lettermen Rusty Allen and Jeff Nielson led the golf team until Nielson broke his hand early in the season. The season took on a disappointing look with the only region win over Bear River. The eleven team members attended a BYU invitational in April.

Top: Just taking off from the starting line, team members pace each other. Above: Michael Clawson finishes first in a home meet against Logan.

CATFISH

After dousing Roy 39-8, the Catfish lost momentum to powerful Bountiful and Tooele. Swimmers practiced harder for speed and endurance, surfacing briefly to overcome Ogden in a close meet, but experienced lettermen were not enough to stop Clearfield. After more practice, the Catfish sank Bear River 42-41. Next Box Elder, region favorite, squelched the hope of another win.

BREAK

Swimmers put the Lakers afloat and drowned the Bears once more. Kim Seeholtzer broke the school record in six dives at 241.3 and eleven dives with a 388.75 score. After four victorious years, Sky View lost to Logan. Although a loss to the Bees was the outcome in their second meeting, the Bobcats stayed afloat and won two firsts, four seconds, and seven third and fourth places.

REGION

With experience behind them, Coach Jensen took his team to the Region One Championships. Region records were set by Craig Kitchens in butterfly and Kim Seeholtzer in diving. Mike Bliss dove into third place and the 400-yard relay team set a school record at 3:48.6.

RECORDS

The twelve swimmers attending State were Alan Crockett, Eric Neilson, Brett Fishburn and Wayne Michels in the 200-yard medley relay; Craig and Curt Kitchens, Richard Merrill, and Ken Hughes in the 400-yard relay; Kim Seeholtzer and Mike Bliss in diving; Craig Kitchens in butterfly; David Baer and Kaylin Johnson were managers. A fifth place by Craig and an eleventh by Kim added points to the Bobcat total.

VARSITY

Following a slow pre-season the wrestlers began Region meets with an easy 48-8 win over Bonneville. Five matmen pinned their opponents while only two submitted to the Lakers. Briefly breaking Region play, the Bobcats faced Highland and practically repeated their previous performance—pinning four and losing two.

SENDS

Next in Region play, the wrestlers kept Logan scoreless and followed this win with a hard-fought 26-18 victory over Preston, made possible by heavier weights, Ron Thalman, Todd Williams, Dave Falslev and Mont Lucherini. Another victorious meet against Bear River matmen and the Bobcats established a 7-3 record. Pushing for another Region win, matmen had a tough time with Roy, but pins by Ron Harrison and Keith Chlarson helped the Bobcats register another win.

TWELVE

With both Sky View and Box Elder 4-0 in league, the championship showdown against the Bees turned out the same as in the past four years—with Box Elder on top. A disappointed Coach Churhill watched as the first eight Bobcats were defeated, but Todd Williams, Dave Falsev and Mont Lucherini made a comeback to make the score 12-32. Making sure their opponents lost the next meet, wrestlers gave Utah's fifth-ranked Clearfield Falcons their first loss.

TO STATE

A special Dads' Night, where all fathers were admitted free, came next with Weber the opposition. Nine wins, including three pins, gave the Bobcats a 35-17 score and a 5-1 Region record. Scoring 119 points and second place in the Region Championships, the Bobcats qualified all twelve varsity wrestlers for state. Facing strong competition at State, the matmen claimed thirteenth place with Wayne Larsen and Ron Thalman finishing fourth in their weights.

Winning streak held by Junior Varsity

Overcome by their first opponent, Junior Varsity wrestlers began a winning streak with a 60-6 decision over Morgan and a 44-17 total against Orem. Matmen held Ben Lomond to 27 points and then outscored Star Valley 27-19. Practice paid off as the Bobcats went on to hold Bonneville and Logan scoreless and allowed Highland only six points. After a close 22-25 defeat by Box Elder, matmen held Clearfield to three points and Weber to eight—finishing the season with a 11-3 overall record.

Sophomores develop wrestling, skills, holds

After facing defeat in two of three outings, the Sophomore wrestlers spent hours in the "hot box" practicing holds and strategies that kept Ben Lomond, their next opponent, scoreless. Putting their tactics to work again, matmen held Highland to 11 points while obtaining 42 of their own. Bear River fell next, closely followed by a 60-14 decision over Roy. Box Elder stopped the Bobcats, however, but wins over Clearfield and Weber totaled the Sophomores' overall record at 7-3.

BOBKITTEN'S

After finishing region play with wins over Logan, Bonneville and Bear River, the girls' athletics Varsity Basketball team entered the first girls' state competition in basketball at Roy High School. While there, state champions, Hillcrest, defeated them 66-34. Cottonwood also came out on top, 33-26. Coach Ike Christensen helped the team in work outs.

FIRST

Tennis players Mary Ellen Jones and Janet Christiansen in doubles and Monica Meyers in singles participated in the state tournament held at B.Y.U. after placing in region play-offs. The volleyball team began region play with several losses but finished up with wins over Roy and Bonneville.

STATE

Sending two relay teams to state and one diver, the swimming team worked out under the direction of Coach Vic Jensen, Mrs. Hobson and lifeguard Theresa Fullmer. Cindy Fullmer, Ethy Shaw, Jolynn Van Moorelehem and Janis Tingey swam in the 200-yard medley relay with Margie Israelsen, Deby Parkinson, Liz Dalton and Ethy Shaw swimming the 400-yard relay. Maggie Larsen placed 17th statewide in diving.

TOURNAMENT

Running one-half to one mile daily during winter months, the track and field team prepared for meets held in the spring. Team members practiced by lifting weights, working out on the Universal Gym, exercising and jumping the rope. Everyone attended region, and several went to the state meet.

BOBCATS

Starting the year by winning four of six games, the Bobcats continued into tight league play. From the start it became obvious that a wide losing margin followed by a close and thrilling finish would be the rule rather than the exception. This style produced three overtime games. Roy failed this nerve-wracking test first, as Brad Thomas's four-second tie-breaker shot assured victory.

CLINCH

The next overtime came against arch rival, Logan. With two seconds left on the clock, Tim Belnap threw a length-of-the-court pass to Todd Johnson who tied the score 44-44. The four overtimes seemed endless but ended when Tim Kohler broke the tie at 52-50. Tense, close games continued with the Bobcats giving and receiving wins, and with the chance of not going to State, the Varsity opposed Weber next.

EIGHTH

Facing a large Weber lead, Bobcats narrowed the scores enough to tie at the end of fourth quarter, and another overtime developed. While keeping Weber scoreless, Varsity members scored four points and another victory. Play-offs for State came next and a heart-stopping game against Box Elder ended in the Bobcat's favor with Bruce Godderidge stealing the ball twice making four crucial points possible.

STATEWIDE

Entering State competition as second place in Region, the Bobcats found themselves in the consolation bracket after losing their first State game to Hillcrest. Clearfield and Ben Lomond received the brunt of Varsity members' strength as scores of 44-42 and 53-41 toppled them from competition. Playing more games than expected, the Cats placed eighth in the Class 4-A Tournament after being defeated in a tense game against a tall Cottonwood team.

Above: Brad Thomas lays it up and in during the second season game against the Logan Grizzlies.

Close games J.V. style

Outscoring their opponents 377-368 in six pre-season games, the J.V. basketball players took a 4-2 record into Region play. A strong Bear River team kept the scores close but edged ahead to win 50-48 and then defeated the Bobcats again later. Another close game and two-point loss faced the J.V. with the Weber Warriors. Bonneville followed with another two-point loss, but Roy downed the Bobcats 80-68. Determination fired the J.V. in the next game and a 74-32 victory resulted. Logan gave the Bobcats a loss in both games but the tables turned as Bonneville, Roy and Box Elder met defeat—outscored 199-172. Finishing the basketball season with a win, J.V. downed Weber 70-49 and recorded a total record of 9-9.

NC - SC unite, form SV Sophomore team

Outscoring their opponents by 30 points in their first two Region games, Sophomore basketball players became a part of SV action. Sinking Bonneville and Box Elder two times each, the Bobcats practiced even harder to beat a tough Bear River team. Under the watchful eye of Coach Robertson, the Sophomore team members learned trapping and guarding skills and ended with a combined record of 7-7.

ACTION:

Handicapped by late March snow storms, track and field athletes participated indoors at BYU and USU for their first two meets. The season looked good as strong Lettermen returned to give their all. The first-in-State pole-vaulter Mark Zollinger continued with excellent performances, and Mike Clawson ranked in the top eight in the two-mile. Martin Culley dominated the broad jump while Jim Chambers ran strong in the sprint. Randy Oldroyd overcame the challenge of the intermediate hurdles and the Bobcats claimed a successful year.

SPRING

Out to regain or improve last year's third place finish in state competition, Coach Joe Robertson's Baseball team used a net that had a hole in it for working on pitching and batting as they managed to practice during winter months. The baseball team defeated Viewmont, last year's state champions, 7-5. Cottonwood came out on top of both ends of a doubleheader 6-0 and 12-1. After being down 6-1, the Bobcats came from behind to go ahead of Bear River 9-6 but a home run in the last inning by Bear River won the game with a final score of 10-9.

SPORTS

Despite a snow covered tennis court that made practices impossible the Tennis team set its eyes on a consecutive region championship as it started the year with a 4-1 victory over Bear River. Two-time region champions in doubles, Mark Jones and Tim Belnap, along with number one singles player, Richard Spuler, returned to "lead the team to the championship," said Coach Gary Swan. Although Kim Downs lost his partner in doubles last year, Coach Swan expected him to do well in singles play.

Twelve Excel

Competing in state speech meets, taking classes offered in the field of their interest, or showing originality in arts and crafts, twelve students earned the title of "Sterling Scholar!" These students compiled portfolios containing letters of recommendation, learned to handle an interview and worked to excel in their chosen department. After judging portfolios and interviews on March 24, judges chose the semi-finalists to be judged on April 7. The MC announced the winners on KSL TV on April 13.

Students earn special awards

Striving to reach graduation and future goals, many students earned special awards. Bart Mumford worked to win the Bridge Building contest, and Bob Wiser became the champion Chess player. Acknowledging special athletic ability, Sweet Tarts, Big Hunks and Athletes of the Month gained recognition through awards at Pep assemblies and the school newspaper. Extracurricular activities gave club presidents, class officers and other Seniors the chance to become Top Cats. For taking several foreign language classes and having a good insight for them, Jeane Schenk received the Foreign Language award.

Competition brings winners recognition

After achieving Superior and One plus ratings at the Region Solo & Ensemble competition, four orchestra students became eligible to attend the State competition. Debaters who won at region and qualified for state received recognition at a special assembly held during first hour. Lisa Jensen clinched fifth place in the essay contest, How a Handicapped Person Approaches Life and earned a tuition scholarship to one of the five colleges in Utah. Over forty students signed up to see who had more paddle in the ping-pong tournaments. Tim Belnap won in first lunch hour while Jeff Wengren topped second lunch. Studying to maintain a 3.7 or above grade point average meant becoming a member of the National Honor Society.

Students reach epitome of achievement

Chosen by the newspaper staff, eight seniors who excelled in academics became Senior Citizens. By participating in classes and contests, over sixty students chosen attended the region Speech meet held at USU in April. Paula Jensen received the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow award after she scored high on The Betty Crocker test and in her Home Economics classes. Twenty-one students having their names published in Who's Who Among Americans succeeded in being honored by the title of Who's Who.
