

Quinlin remembers that the classrooms were small

Jasper remembers that the black top was smaller

The old school was built in 1956

The old school was torn down

The garden was more by the persimmon tree. It was smaller.

Rebuilding Edna

We had an extra week of Winter Break so the teachers could move into the new school.

In January, kids came back to new classrooms.

It was hard to find everything.

There was always construction

When the new school was built, we had classes in portables

There were ramps to get to the classrooms.

We played different things for PE. Games like tag and hopscotch. Lots of blacktop games.

The library was stuffed because it had a lot of books. The shelves were higher.

Portables shared bathrooms. There were two toilets and lots of pipes.

Small playground

The library was hot.
