

The Howler

A Distance Learning monthly bulletin for our Mill Valley Middle School Community

November 2020
Vol II, Issue 7

Howls of the Month

It has been a packed October here at Mill Valley Middle School with many activities and opportunities for students, as we continue to navigate distance learning together. A huge thanks to Kiddo! for funding and supporting Yoga and Mindfulness in Ms. Palmer's 6th grade PE classes. We also want to thank our PTSA for supporting Being Adept and Challenge Day, in continued support for social/emotional and drug/alcohol prevention education!

Finally, it's Halloween, and no matter the situation, MVMS finds ways to dress up and celebrate! Check out this link (mvsd domain only so have students share it) of our staff costumes. Have fun tomorrow night, and we are strongly encouraging all students to stay safe. Please see this community information from the City of Mill Valley. Happy Halloween!

Future Howls

We are preparing for our return to campus and the opening of school on November 30th. In the coming weeks, we will be sending more detailed information to students and families regarding our hybrid schedule, Extended Distance Learning (EDL), and all the health and safety measures we have put in place. Our current School Site Specific Protection Plan is on our website. Additionally, we be sending out our "COVID-19 Guide for a Safe Return to School," prior to our return to school. All students and families should tune into "Panther Community" every morning, during the week of November 16-20, as we will be reviewing the sections of the guide each day, along with showing our informational videos!
