THE STATE OF THE NESTUCCA VALLEY SCHOOL DISTRICT

Happy 2019!

The New Year is off to a fast start in the Nestucca Valley School District. We have ended our first semester/2nd quarter and launched our new nine-week period. Students and staff have settled into being back at school, and this is always the time of year where the academics get more serious.

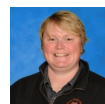

We are in prime flu season, and want to remind parents that if your child is exhibiting flu like symptoms, please keep them home from school. February 20, 2019, is the exclusion date for students who have not received immunizations or completed a medical/non-medical certificate to exempt their child from some, or all, immunizations. At NVES, 100% of our students are in compliance. I am certain that many of you have been following the news concerning the measles outbreak. Please be mindful of any rashes your child may develop. As a community, we have been doing a great job of alerting the office of any abnormal rashes and/or medical ailments, allowing administration to notify parents as needed. Keep up the good work.

The district has officially closed on the Beaver School sale. What does this mean for community use? The new owners of the property are currently working with the district to develop a lease agreement that will allow the school district to continue to use parts of the property like the gym, bus barn and baseball fields. It has yet to be determined if community groups can continue to use the facility. So, at this stage, non-district activities will not be allowed on the Beaver property. This is a developing situation and more information will be shared as it becomes available.

The bond work is nearing the closeout of the Schematic Design phase. This means that within two weeks the district will have a great idea of what the footprint of the building will look like on the elementary campus. The team will then enter the Design Development phase, which more closely examines finishes and ascetics.

If you have questions, about anything, I can be reached at (503) 392-3194 Ext 404 or mistyw@nestucca.k12.or.us.

20th Annual SMART Book Award

Every winter after the new year begins, SMART introduces nominees for its SMART Book Award to be read and voted on by thousands of students throughout Oregon. Each participating child casts their vote and the winner will be announced in March.

Kindergartners from NVES have been reading with SMART since the beginning of the school year and taking home two books a month to add to their collection. We are excited to be a part of this year's contest.

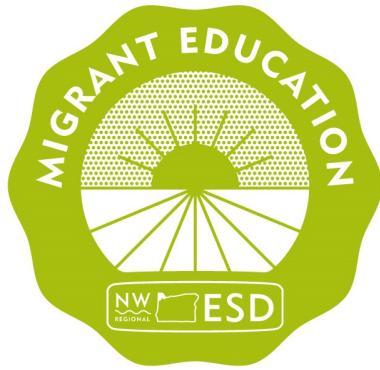

This year's Book Award Nominees are: Beautiful/Bellas by Stacy McAnulty
I'm Trying to Love Spiders by Bethany Barton
Up Above and Down Below by Paloma Valdivia
Maria Had a Little Llama by Angela Dominguez

NVES SMART currently has 13 reader volunteers who meet each Tuesday from 12-1:00. It's always an exciting and fun time that we spend reading to our kindergartners but, we are always looking for more readers whether they are full time or part time volunteers. We are grateful for each of them!

You can visit www.getSMARToregon.org for more details or if you think you might like to volunteer as a reader for SMART.

Art Literacy during January: Albrecht Dürer

Albrecht Dürer (1471–1528) was born in the Franconian city of Nuremberg, Germany and is an artist of the Renaissance period. He was the second of eighteen children, many of whom passed away in childhood. He was a brilliant painter, draftsman, and writer, though his first and probably greatest artistic impact was in the medium of printmaking. At the age of thirteen, Dürer apprenticed with his father, who was a goldsmith. Then with the local painter Michael Wolgemut, whose workshop produced woodcut illustrations for major books and publications.

In his apprenticeship under Wolgemut, Dürer learned the art of woodcut, which at the time was used primarily for illustrated books. He mastered woodcuts/printmaking and turned the process into a form of artwork. His artwork is filled with monsters, devils, angels, and saints drawn from the artist's fertile imagination. He also used symbols to convey a deeper meaning in his work.

Dürer's talent, ambition, and sharp, wide-ranging intellect earned him the attention and friendship of some of the most prominent figures in German society. He became official court artist to Holy Roman Emperors Maximilian I and his successor Charles V, for whom Dürer designed and helped execute a range of artistic projects. He also published two books using his artwork for illustration, both of scientific nature, one about human anatomy.

The students practiced making their own linocuts and enjoyed the process! We used safer tools than what is traditionally used but allowed for the same experience. Linocut/woodblock Printing is similar to making relief sculptures, in that material is carved away to reveal subject matter. In woodcut printmaking, the area that is negative space (area without subject matter) is carved away, and the positive space is left alone or texture can be added to it for visual interest. Texture is created by using repeated patterns such as lines, dots, waves, shapes ect. When this process is complete a thin layer of ink is applied to the woodcut with a brayer, then a piece of paper is laid over the top and is pressed onto the woodcutting. The paper is then pulled off and voila!

In the Nestucca Valley Head Start classroom, we are focusing on classroom rules such as sharing, following directions and keeping our hands to ourselves. We are continuing our learning from Zoo Phonics. Each week we learn about a new animal. This lesson includes their signal and how to sound out the first letter of their name. As always, we practice numbers and colors through-out the day. This month, we have also been learning about animals in the ocean. We accept applications for this program year-round, and are recruiting now for the 2019/2020 school year. <http://www.nworheadstart.org/index.html> Our new Family Advocate Tina is starting to set up home visits, and helping with family partnerships and goals. Her first student interviews have occurred. Watch for those in the coming newsletters!

Our Preschool Promise classroom is continuing to learn about friendship, boundaries, and what being Kindergarten Ready looks like! In Zoo Phonics, we are working the letter "R" Robby Rabbit. We are also working on writing our first (and last!) names, and playing outside a LOT! Don't forget to send in those rain boots and extra clothes! We still have openings for income eligible in this classroom- see our website www.nvelc.com for an application.

In our Infant/Toddler classroom, we have been working on colors and shapes and letters. We are working on sharing and being good friends, exploring colors while painting. We have a waiting list in this classroom, accepting applications. See our website for rates and info.

From the Kitchen: Cookie Debbie is concentrating on the "Chatter Time." Mealtime is such a perfect time to not only reflect on the events of the day, it is also a perfect time to teach. Ask them questions about the food. "Where does it come from? Does it grow on a tree or bush or underground?" "How many colors are we eating?" "Is it a fruit or veggie, dairy or grain?" We have been having these conversations at our mealtimes. I bet they will surprise you with how much they have learned. They surprise me every day! As always, be sure to call or email if you want to join us for a meal. I can be reached at dswanson@nworheadstart.org or 503-392-4449.

From the Director's Desk: We have many opportunities for Family Engagement coming up! Watch for more information on our Parent Café coming up in the district (for all families PK-6th grade!), as well as our Down to Earth Dad event on Thursday February 14th in the Jr/Sr High School library. RSVP is required for this, as dinner will be provided. Leave a voice mail at 503-392-4449 x1 or email admin@nvelc.com with the number in your family.

We are still looking for qualified early learning applicants in all three classrooms, and an afternoon maintenance position. If you are interested, please email us your resume and cover letter (no drop-ins or phone calls re: these positions please).
