

DETENTION

The Board of Education believes that detention is an effective method of discipline for students. A student who violates the student disciplinary code may be assigned detention by the school office or any member of the faculty. A list of those on detention can be found on the daily absentee sheet. In order for a student to be placed on detention, the Building Principal and the parent(s) or guardian(s) must be notified, and the student must have transportation home.

DETENTION REGULATION

Students may be detained by the Building Principal in the school office or they may be assigned to the in-school suspension center or after-school detention (ASD), where applicable, for short periods of time.

At such time as the Principal confers with a student, the student must be informed of the reason for the investigation, provided with an opportunity to respond, and granted an opportunity to contact the parent(s) or guardian(s).
