Sachem Board of Education Recognized During Board Appreciation Week

During the Oct. 20 meeting of the Sachem Central School District Board of Education, the nine esteemed members of the Board were recognized for their tireless efforts representing the students, staff and members of the Sachem community.

Numerous organizations, including the Sachem Administrators Association, Sachem Classroom Teachers Association, Sachem Clerical Association, Sachem Nurses Association, Sachem Supervisors Association, Special Education Parent Teachers Association, and the Sachem custodial, maintenance, facilities and security unions, all presented the Board with tokens of appreciation or made donations in their name for their continuous, outstanding contributions to the Sachem Central School District and community.

Students at Chippewa Elementary School in Ms. Festa's third grade class made welcome brochures to share with new building principal Michael Saidens, filled with important facts and information about Chippewa and things they wanted the new principal to learn about them.

Sachem High School East students in James Byrne's Career Training Program Carpentry class have been hard at work learning the intricacies of carpentry.

Students across Hiawatha Elementary School recently attended an antbullying assembly program hosted by Dialed Action Sports which combined exciting BMX tricks with essential information on bullying and ways to alleviate its effects to form a peaceful school community.

Students at Merrimac Elementary School in Danielle Gagnon's third grade class have recently participated in yoga activities to practice essential mindfulness techniques.

The Sachem High School North Science National Honor Society recently went on a field trip to Sunken Meadow State Park to participate in "A Day in the Life of the Nissequogue River" as part of the "Day in the Life" program.

In the spirit of Halloween, students across grade levels at Tamarac Elementary School hosted a Halloween parade where they showcased their creative costumes to family and friends in attendance.

Sachem East Student Leads Project for Healthy Hearts

Sachem High School East junior Adriana Ancilleri recently completed her Girl Scout Gold Award project, which added the "Healthy Hearts for Happy Kids" trail to the Town of Brookhaven's Holtsville Wildlife and Ecology Center fitness track.

Following over a year of planning, the trail was completed and adds a collection of eight healthy activities for children to participate in along the walking trail to promote fitness and social and emotional health.
