

BECOME A VOLUNTEER

Camp Erin of the Central Valley is made possible through your participation and the support of many dedicated volunteers. With your help, Camp Erin of the Central Valley brings critical life coping skills, hope and healing to the grieving children and teens in our communities. All volunteers are required to participate in training to obtain the tools and understanding needed to support our campers. Volunteer and be a part of an incredible experience.

Our Community Our Hospice

Supporting our community one family at a time.

The mission of Community Hospice is to embrace individuals and families facing life-changing journeys, enhancing quality of life for all.

Camp Erin of the Central Valley is committed to the safety of our campers and volunteers. We continue to carefully monitor and adhere to all local, state and Federal guidelines including the American Camp Association (ACA) Camping Best Practices. In light of COVID-19, some programming may be rescheduled, cancelled or provided in a virtual setting.

About Eluna

Camp Erin of the Central Valley was created and supported in part by Eluna.

Eluna is a public, 501(c)(3) non-profit with a mission to support children and families impacted by grief or addiction. Founded in 2000 in Seattle by former MLB pitcher Jamie Moyer and child advocate Karen Phelps Moyer, Eluna was originally called The Moyer Foundation and launched a series of programs supporting thousands of children and families annually at no cost to them. Camp Erin® is the largest national network of grief programs for bereaved children and teens. Camp Mariposa® is a national addiction prevention and mentoring program for youth impacted by a family member's substance use disorder, and the Eluna Resource Center offers online tools, local referrals and personalized phone and email support for families experiencing grief, addiction and other related issues. For more information, please visit elunanetwork.org. In response to COVID-19, Eluna's priority has been the safety and well-being of campers, families, our network of providers and volunteers. Camp programs now support campers through virtual camps, day camps

About Camp Erin

Is a free weekend bereavement camp for youth who are grieving the death of a significant person in their lives. Children and teens ages 6 to 17 attend a weekend camp experience that combines grief education and emotional support with fun, traditional camp activities. Led by bereavement professionals and caring volunteers, campers are provided a safe space to explore their grief, learn essential coping skills, and make friends with peers who are also grieving.

Location

Camp Erin of the Central Valley is held at Foothill Horizons, located in Sonora, CA.

"Camp Erin helped me be more social and I made a lot of friends. I still miss my dad but camp taught me that it is all right to be open about it."

- Camper, age 15

Grieving children often feel alone and misunderstood.

Campers will learn:

- They are not alone and there are others who share similar feelings
- Their feelings are perfectly normal
- Healthy ways to express their feelings
- To honor/remember their person who died

Camp Erin of the Central Valley is offered

free of charge

TO ALL CAMPERS

"Camp Erin helped me by letting people know my story and talk about my feelings. It let out my emotions and I liked doing it with people who lost someone."

- Camper, age 7
