The screenshot shows an Android phone's network settings menu. At the top, the device name is "HOME-D12F" and it says "Searching for Wi-Fi networks...". A list of available networks is shown: "xfinitywifi", "belkin.4f2.guests", and "Android Smartphone". Below the list are options for "Join other..." and "Settings...". A red box highlights the "xfinitywifi" network. A red box highlights the "Settings..." option with a red arrow pointing to it. A red box highlights the system tray at the bottom, which contains the battery level (0), time (1:03), Wi-Fi icon, and location (US).
