Staff ID Badges

Our District is requiring all SRCS staff, volunteers and visitors to wear their SRCS staff ID or one provided to them. Having an ID visible let’s everyone know that you are an employee, and it helps you know who may be on campus without having checked in first with the front office. Wearing IDs empowers all of us to be active members of keeping our schools safe. Thank you for helping us implement this new policy!

Great California Shakeout: Thursday October 20 at 10:21 AM

TLHS will participate in the Great California Shakeout on Thursday, October 20, right at the start of 3rd period (10:21). Please review the Earthquake Drill instructions with your students. To announce the start of the drill, we will state, “Remain in your classrooms and buildings. Duck and Cover.” Instruct students to Drop, Cover, and Hold On, wherever teacher and/or students are. This includes dropping to the floor (to prevent falling), making yourself as small a target as possible, and protecting your head, neck and chest by taking cover under a sturdy desk or table or near an interior wall, covering your head with your hands and arms. Please consider the many spaces you may utilize around campus and ensure students know of the safest location to Drop, Cover, and Hold on. Please also consider any student who may have mobility challenges. Our drill will take no longer than one minute. At the end of the drill, we will announce “This concludes our drill. Thank you for participating in the Great California Shakeout.” See Maria if you have any questions or concerns.

Equal Opportunity Schools Survey_Mon. 10/24

Terra Linda High School is once again partnering with Equal Opportunity Schools, a non-profit education organization, to examine and further develop the learning culture within our schools. On Monday, October 24th, we will be conducting a 30 minute student survey schoolwide in all English classes. The purpose of this survey will be to understand student aspirations and expectations, identify students who would benefit from challenging courses, explore awareness about college and career readiness, and gather information around how students would like to be supported in academics.

Youth Transforming Justice Training

Thank you to all the students and staff that took part in our Youth Transforming Justice peer solutions training this past Monday. Staff attended a full day training and learned about trauma-informed educational practices. Students joined in the afternoon and learned an overview of what peer solutions are and how they can be used on a high school campus. It was powerful to hear from Terra Linda students and see the desire they have in bringing restorative justice and restorative practices to the front of the discipline conversation. Next steps will be to identify cases to bring before our peer solutions team. If you would like to see the peer solutions script, please follow this (link).

Math Problem of the Month

There are 3 aliens: Xoof, Zigan, and Woxl. Because you are unfamiliar with aliens, they all look the same to you! You can't tell them apart.

Whenever Xoof gets a number, they always add two. Whenever Zigan gets a number, they always double it. Whenever Woxl gets a number, they always square it.

The three aliens are standing in a row. You give the first one, who is wearing a red shirt, a whole number greater than zero but less than 10. They do what they always do to a number and whisper that result to the next alien, who is wearing a green shirt, who does what they always do to a number, and then whispers that result to the next alien. The third alien, wearing a purple shirt, does what they always do to a number, and they tell you their response.

The number they tell you is a 3-digit perfect square.

"Well that doesn't help! I can get that same result three different ways!" you exclaim. You look at the alien wearing red and say, "Based on that number y'all told me, you could literally still be any of the three!!" The alien in red shrugs, unhelpfully.

Then, you look at the alien in the purple shirt and say "help me out, Woxl!" The alien replies, "I am not Woxl!"

Which alien is wearing which color, what number did you give to the first alien, and what number did the last alien say to you?

Submit your solutions to room 103 or to your math teacher for a chance to win a gift card. A complete submission will include your work and an explanation of your answer.
