3. The recognition of success promotes the desire for future success. We will provide successful experiences for every child.
4. All can learn, but may learn in different ways. It is our goal to help every child learn.
5. We recognize the inescapable relationship between our example and our influence on others. We will strive to set an example of integrity, honesty, and love of learning at all times.
6. Extra-curricular and co-curricular activities are important aspects of learning.
7. In order to foster positive self-image it is more important to address individuals' needs rather than programs. We will strive to help each individual reach his or her potential.
