

Your child has been introduced to the Bubble Map this week in their classroom. Ask your child to share what they know about Bubble Maps with you and then take a few minutes to engage in a family activity that will reinforce this type of thinking and learning for your child at home.

The Bubble Map can be used for describing. This thought process is represented with a visual that has the topic in the middle and adjectives that describe that topic in the outside bubbles.

Below is an example of a Bubble Map, where a family described their favorite dessert.

Other ideas for using the Bubble Map:

- Describe a person
- Describe an animal
- Describe a character in a story
- Describe a location
- Describe an object

With your family, create a Bubble Map in the space below. You may select any topic for the center.
