

HONORS WORLD HISTORY

SYLLABUS

WELCOME!

Welcome to our class! I'm so happy you are here. I've designed this class to push your critical thinking about the past to help you develop the skills to think about the present. This will be an engaging course where you will develop your historical thinking skills through a variety of primary and secondary sources. I hope this course helps you foster a love for learning.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

World History is a Social Science course that will integrate an understanding of the global experience of humanity and develop a sense of the world's historical significance of developments and events. Students will learn how to craft historical arguments from evidence, as well as the use of chronological reasoning in the forms of: historical causation, patterns of continuity, and contextualization.
